Problem Statement

Our users face difficult times while trying to find the traditional recipes of their favorite delicacies while searching the internet. Our solution should provide users with an easier way of accessing their recipes.

Who is experiencing the problem?

Young people or cooks who don't have experience with cooking.

What is the problem?

Traditional recipes are not searchable on the internet and there are many of them which can confuse the user.

Where does the problem present itself?

On the internet or home.

Why does it?

People need the traditional recipe to be healthy and be able to provide food for themselves.
